'Full Moon' funds children's wing

Money raised at Barefoot Charlie's Restaurant during its June Full Moon Festival was presented to "Koko," Virginia Duffett and Betty Orsland at the Hendersonville Public Library.

Making the presentation with a "sack" of money contributed by the "Barefooter" patrons during the June 6 event was Piper Manis, granddaughter of Barefoot Charlie. The money is being earmarked for the activity room in the children's wing.

Full moon festivals are popular events in the Caribbean islands. Barefoot Charlie's will be celebrating it monthly through September. Donations for the children's wing will be accepted at the festival each month, although contributions may be made anytime at the restaurant, located at 125 Sanders Ferry Road in Hendersonville.

The new Martin R. Curtis, Sr. Hendersonville Public Library, which opened last fall, is located at 140 Saundersville Road in the Drake's Creek Greenway in Indian Lake Village.
